

SS 112 Black Studies Two Course Learning Objectives

CLO 1: Analyze the myths and achievements of Black Americans from the time of Reconstruction to the present.

CLO 2: Explain the social and economic exploitation of one group by another, and how it has influenced the body of knowledge about Black Americans in American history and culture.

CLO 3: Discuss common myths and the portrayal of the Black male and the effects of social advancements in the community and industry.

CLO 4: Discuss the common myths and portrayal of the Black female in her role as revolutionary, mother and leader.

CLO 5: Analyze the impact of societal expectations on the mental and physical health of both the Black male and female.

PREREQUISITE or COREQUISITE

ENG101 or Concurrent As a continuation of Black Studies I, this course focuses on the history and achievements of African Americans from the time of Reconstruction to the present. Students will gain an appreciation for the vast contributions and accomplishments of African Americans, and by examining the theory of underdevelopment, students will come to understand how the social and economic exploitation of one group by another has influenced the body of knowledge about African Americans in American history and culture.